View Events

Context

The user wishes to view any events and event data that is stored in the calendar on a specific day.

Scenario

Primary
1. User clicks on a day in the calendar
2. The right side of the main page is populated with the most current event on that date
3. Any other events that happen on the same date can be selected by the list of events that is also populated

Click on different event In the populated list
1. All data displayed is repopulated with the selected event in the event list on the right side
2. All other events are still accessible to be viewed by clicking on them in the event list

No events on the selected date
1. All data is wiped off the right side and the event name is "No Events on This Date"